State Fire Mobilization Ends for Mill Canyon Fire

State fire mobilization assistance ended at 12:00 p.m. on August 7, 2004, for the Mill Canyon Fire near Reardon in Lincoln County. The fire, which has burned 1,191 acres and destroyed two structures, received authorization for State Fire Services Mobilization Act support on Tuesday, August 3, 2004.

Under the State Fire Mobilization Act, the Washington State Patrol's Fire Protection Bureau had coordinated the dispatch of firefighters and equipment from Walla Walla, Benton, Kitsap, Island, Skagit, Clark, and Cowlitz counties to support local firefighters from Lincoln county fire districts.
